The Center for Language Education (CLE) at the University of North Georgia (UNG) offers an Intensive English Program for international students seeking admission to study in an American university or advance one's career opportunities.

1. Improves the ability to speak and write more confidently and competently in English.
2. Provides excellent university preparation to successfully meet the requirements of advanced English reading, writing, speaking, listening, and creative thinking skills for an American university classroom.
3. Allows CLE students to study and live on the UNG campus as well as interact with American university students.
4. Follows UNG calendar: a 16-week program in spring and fall. CLE classes: 9-11:30am, 2-4:30pm.
5. Integrates essays, authentic college-level literature, note-taking from a university lecture, presentations, and classroom discussions and seminars.
6. Develops creative thinking and communication skills in all CLE students.
7. Small class size: individual attention from high quality CLE instructors; no more than 12 students in each class.
8. Opportunities to observe classes at UNG to gain first-hand experience; partner with UNG students for conversation practice.
9. Learn about American history and culture; Regular field trips and cultural activities.
10. 95% of all CLE students transition to UNG.

No TOEFL will be required for undergraduate admission to UNG after successfully completing the advanced Intensive English Program class in the CLE.

Fees: $9,800 USD per semester (16-weeks) includes tuition, books, university fees, dormitory (2 people per room), 15 meals per week, medical insurance, field trips, and airport transportation.

Application Deadline: May 15 (for fall 2015), October 1 (for spring 2016).

For more information about the CLE, visit: www.ung.edu/cle

Top 10 Reasons to Study at UNG!

Situated in a picturesque region of the state, Dahlonega is surrounded by the natural beauty of mountains, streams, and abundant forests. Dahlonega is located one hour from a large city – Atlanta, Georgia – but far enough away in a small, all-American town that is safe, friendly, and welcoming.

1. Founded in 1873, the student population is 15,000 located on four campuses. Incoming freshmen average GPA 3.70/4.00 and SAT 1121.
2. The five colleges at UNG offer more than 50 bachelor’s degrees and 13 master’s degree programs.
3. UNG’s is a teaching institution: class size is small and its low faculty-to-student ration allows students to receive personal attention in and outside the classroom.
4. UNG was named one of the nation’s 100 best values in higher education by Kiplinger Personal Finance magazine.
5. Mike Cottrell School of Business was accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate School of Business (only 694 institutions hold AACSB accreditation in the world).
6. Offers a dual bachelor’s degree program in physics and engineering between UNG and Georgia Tech.
7. UNG provides a seamless transfer to Georgia Tech Institute (GTI), the University of Georgia (UGA), and other famous American universities in Georgia since UNG belongs to the same education system.
8. UNG’s international student’s population is less than 2%, providing an excellent environment for English learners. The total number of Asian students studying at UNG is less than 100.
9. UNG is an excellent stepping-stone for students who want to transfer to a larger American university when they are seeking graduate or professional studies.
10. Compared to other state universities, UNG’s tuition is low. The cost of living in Dahlonega is also reasonable when compared to other U.S. cities.

Tuition: $15,000 per semester (16-weeks) which includes tuition for full-time studies, university fees, dormitory, and all meals.

Application Deadline: June 1st (for fall 2015), October 1st (for spring 2016).

For more information about UNG, visit: www.ung.edu