

Military Village

Hello my name is Mitchell Woods. I am a cadet at UNG and I live in the military village. There are three residence halls or barracks in military villages. They are Gaillard, Liberty, and Patriot. Almost all 750 cadets of Corps live in these three buildings. If you are part of the corps and live on campus you will live in one of the three buildings. I've lived in Liberty for three years and I've really enjoyed it. All three have suite style rooms. The only difference living in the corps is that your room has to be kept to a certain standard, look a certain way, and will get inspected regularly for order and cleanliness. There is one floor of Patriot hall, the fourth floor, which is set aside for civilian students. So if you come to UNG as a civilian student you might be one of the few that lives on the fourth floor of Patriot hall with one of the best views on campus.
