

Administration building –GVL campus tour

Hi my name is Nathalia Ingles and today well be taking a look at the Administration building.

The administration building is different from all the buildings that you saw today because this one only houses Offices.

One of the offices that houses is the vice-president, each campus gets a vice president so in this building is where you would find the office of the Vice-President of the Gainesville campus.

Another office that you would find here is the office of Academic Affairs which serves the Faculty and students in aspects of research and services.

Another great office that you'll find here, is the Human Resources office. And this one it would be familiar for those who are student workers like myself or teachers or anyone hired by the school, because this where you come to sign the papers as you get hired.

Another office that you will find in the administration building is the Bursar's Office. The Bursar's Office is where you go to pay your tuition and any other bill you have with the school

So thank you, have a great day.
