"As a historian going to Perú was a dream and a life-changing experience in every way. At first, I was beyond excited to be visiting Machu Picchu and experiencing their culture. However, I did not know I was going to learn more from my own culture, and what Latin America has to offer to the world. Staying with locals was unique, it felt like I was living with my friends and changed any perspectives. I will forever value and cherish the memories and friendships I made on this trip."
