IMPLICATIONS OF THE COVID-19 PANDEMIC ON NATIONAL SECURITY

The University of North Georgia Institute for Leadership and Strategic Studies, the Army Strategist Association, and the U.S. Army War College Strategic Studies Institute present
Implications of the COVID-19 Pandemic on National Security

Date: April 7-8, 2021

Location: Virtual or in person on UNG's Dahlonega Campus Convocation Center

The novel coronavirus (COVID-19) global pandemic posed new strategic challenges within the political, military, economic, social, infrastructure, information (PMESII), and intelligence domains of nation-states. To analyze the implications of the pandemic's impact on these domains and to explore their implications on national security the Institute for Leadership and Strategic Studies, the College of Arts and Letters, UNG Press, the Army Strategist Association, and the Army War College Strategic Studies Institute are pleased to announce a symposium on the topic for the purpose of contributing to the scholarly discussion of this complex and strategically challenging issue.

Symposium format. The symposium will consist of a series of speakers and panels on 7 and 8 April as well as undergraduate student presentations on the afternoon of 8 April.

Writing contest. A writing contest will be held in conjunction with the symposium and judged by PhD professors at the University of North Georgia. Cash honoraria will be awarded to the winning author and two runners-up.
