THE MILITARY COLLEGE OF GEORGIA®

Leaders are made here.

YOUR

FUTURE

STARTS HERE.

Lead confidently through commissioning.

Every year, more than 100 UNG cadets are commissioned as Army officers — proof that leadership starts here. As the Military College of Georgia and a designated State Leadership Institution, we produce leaders who assess situations, make decisions and lead those in their charge. The UNG Corps of Cadets combines a 24-hour leadership laboratory with a world-class educational and social experience, making you a highly effective leader on day one of your Army career. As a member of the Corps of Cadets, we'll challenge you to set big goals for yourself and give you the support you need to reach them. For more than 150 years, UNG has prepared some of the best leaders of character to serve our nation.

BOAR'S HEAD BRIGADE

One of only six Senior Military Colleges in the nation, the University of North Georgia is a unique, innovative and legacy-making institution. Since 1873, the Corps of Cadets, known as the Boar's Head Brigade, has developed leaders of character for the U.S. Army, public and private entities, other military services and civic organizations, for the good of the nation, states and communities they serve.

Joining the Boar's Head Brigade allows cadets to get involved in both regular student and cadet organizations. This offers an excellent opportunity for building a supportive network of friends and mentors.

Lead boldly through the National Service Leadership Track.

Cadets have the option to be part of our incredible program, and also graduate as well-rounded civilians. The National Service Leadership Track (NSLT) provides a seamless approach to leadership development, resume-building, career exploration and job opportunities for cadets who seek careers in a variety of fields such as government, the private sector and healthcare. As a member of the Corps of Cadets, NSLT students create a unique portfolio of leadership experiences that enhance professional development to achieve career objectives.

NSLT cadets will become agile, adaptive, innovative leaders of character achieving successful careers in the civilian sector of American society.

UNG has a lot to offer you!

From challenging classes to making new friends, your college journey will be full of exciting new “first” experiences. One of the greatest things about participating in the Corps of Cadets at UNG is you get to be part of two worlds – an immersive, world-class 24/7 leadership development program embedded within a traditional college experience. You can choose to run for student government, play NCAA or intramural sports, pursue academic research or even study abroad. At UNG, you can have it all!

It's important to prioritize your education. At UNG, you'll find world-class professors dedicated to teaching outstanding academic programs and helping you find the path to success.

CHANGE THE WORLD.

At UNG, leadership is in our DNA. And for 150 years we have prepared cadets to make a lasting impact in the military, their communities and in the world beyond. UNG's history of leadership is ready for its next chapter to include YOU!

Do you see yourself as someone others describe as audacious, fearless, daring or gutsy? Do you feel as though there is a stronger you within that hasn't reached its full potential? Being bold means stepping out, seizing the moment and acting decisively when duty calls.

Whether you are leading a platoon in the Army or speaking in a board room, bold leadership is a prerequisite to success. At UNG, we specialize in bold.

Lead creatively through cadet organizations.

Leadership isn't just about giving and following orders. It also requires creativity and passion to find that successful outcome. Through UNG's Corps of Cadets, you will find many ways to tap into your leadership potential. Whether you choose to join our legendary Blue Ridge Rifles, our highly competitive Ranger Challenge team or our historic Golden Eagle Band, there are many ways to develop your leadership through action.

At UNG, we believe your individuality and passion are key to your success — both in your college life and the life you have beyond graduation. As a cadet, we will help you get there by equipping you with the tools you need to pave your way to greatness. Find out more about what cadet organizations can offer you.

GET HELP PAYING FOR COLLEGE.

Being a cadet at our nation's best-value Senior Military College opens the door to financial aid opportunities you won't get anywhere else. Whether you plan to commission as an Army officer or are looking for an exciting leadership career outside of the military, you can get the help you need to pay for college. Below are only a sample of the options available. Apply today and change your future.

The Army ROTC Scholarship: These three- and four-year scholarships will pay either all tuition and fees or room and meals — up to $12,000! In return, recipients commission as Army officers in either the active-duty force, the Army Reserve or the National Guard.

The Georgia Military Service Scholarship: A state-funded, full-ride scholarship for 42 Georgia high school seniors who agree to enlist in the Georgia Army National Guard, participate in the Corps of Cadets and commission as officers in the Georgia Army National Guard after graduating with their bachelor's degrees.

Leadership Scholarships: Available to high school students interested in becoming cadets at the University of North Georgia. These scholarships range anywhere from $500 to $11,000 thanks to our generous alumni donors.

EXPAND YOUR VIEWPOINT, EXPLORE NEW CULTURES.

College is meant to expand your horizons through new experiences. One way to do that is through studying abroad. UNG students find hundreds of opportunities to study abroad in all corners of the globe, and UNG cadets have the added bonus of being able to participate in military-specific exchange programs, international conferences and internship opportunities.

SPEAK GLOBALLY.

Understanding another language is another means of developing greater cultural awareness. Incoming cadets are invited to participate in UNG's Summer Language Institute for a six-week immersive learning experience in Chinese, Japanese, Korean or Russian. Cadets can apply for Project GO grants to help cover the cost.

UNG is one of only eight Chinese Language Flagship programs in the United States funded by the Department of Defense.

NATIONAL LEADERSHIP CHALLENGE WEEKEND

Join us for a fall or spring National Leadership Challenge weekend, a three-day residential experience that will help you discover what life is like as a cadet at UNG.

Rappel down a sheer rock cliff, build a rope bridge across a mountain stream and more. It will be one of the most memorable experiences of your life.

There is a place for you here.

The Cadet Leadership Preparatory Program (CLPP) welcomes students who do not initially qualify for admission into the Corps of Cadets.

The program supports students with enhanced training and mentoring, inspiring cadet candidates' success on the Gainesville Campus, to successfully join the Corps in Dahlonega upon completion of the first year of college. This transformational program guides cadet candidates to learn leadership skills to use throughout college and future military careers.

LIVE YOUR

BEST LIFE.

As a cadet at UNG, you can be all you aspire to be through a variety of study and service opportunities. Our students are encouraged to shape their college experience to what they want to pursue. Our cadets can major in the academic path of their choosing, unlocking potential across 60+ offered pathways. They can also participate in our high-achieving NCAA Division II athletics, expand their horizons through our Fraternity and Sorority Life community or take part in the 200+ offered clubs and organizations across our five campuses.

We want our students to shape their future by participating in extracurriculars that will change the trajectory of their lives for the better. Options at UNG are limitless and highly encouraged for our cadets. Leadership is built on the community our institution provides.
