

LEAP grant winners

In addition to Quinto's and Jackson's projects, the other 10 LEAP into Action grant awardees include:

- From Community Garden to Environmental Science Lab, Dr. Gary Adcox, director of campus success and strategic initiatives, and Susan Brantley, lecturer of biology (Oconee Campus)
- Gamifying Global Issues: Integrating Experiential Learning by Simulating International Relations, Dr. Dwight Wilson, associate professor of political science and international affairs, and Dr. Bibek Chand, assistant professor of political science and international affairs (Gainesville Campus)
- Incorporating Culturally Relevant Practices and Symposium to a Pre-Service Teacher Training Course, Dr. Kimberly Davidson and Dr. Sarah Williams, assistant professors of elementary and special education (Gainesville Campus)
- Journal-to-Journalism: A Collaborative Application of Scientific Consumption in the Court of Public Opinion, Dr. Ralph Hale, assistant professor of psychological science and Dr. Valerie Surret, assistant professor of English (Gainesville Campus)
- Implementing Structured Academic Controversy in Children's Literature and Language Arts, Dr. Danielle Hartsfield, assistant professor of literacy and elementary education (Dahlonega Campus)
- eCoaching in Teacher Education: Immediate Feedback in Action, Dr. Jennifer Jones, Dr. Tiffany Watson, and Danielle Hilaski, assistant professors of education, Dr. Nicole Maxwell, associate professor of education (Cumming Campus)
- Making Audio/Visual Listening Guides in Music Appreciation, Dr. Esther Morgan-Ellis, associate professor of music (Dahlonega Campus)
- Estimating Carbon Storage in Standing Trees: A LEAP-Based Approach, Dr. Alex Olvido, associate professor of biology (Oconee Campus)
- Tumbling Creek Hiking Concert, Dr. David Peoples, adjunct professor of music (Gainesville Campus)
- Presentation Skill Evaluation and Self-Directed Improvement for Business Students in Professional Development Program, April Ross, PROS Program director for the Mike Cottrell College of Business (Dahlonega Campus)