

With more than 17,000 students and now five campuses, the University of North Georgia has increased educational opportunities across north Georgia to prepare graduates for career success and to support our region's economic development.

As one of only six federally designated senior military colleges in the United States, the University of North Georgia is proud of turning personal potential into success—and successful people into leaders for a diverse and global society.

NEW CAMPUS

UNG's new Blue Ridge Campus welcomed its first students in August 2015. Courses leading to associate and bachelor's degrees have been expanded for spring 2016.

FILM & DIGITAL MEDIA

UNG's new, four-year film program offers the latest technology and supports the state's growing movie and television industry.

NURSING

This spring, UNG expands the Bachelor of Science in Nursing to the Gainesville Campus, prompted by the projected regional and national shortage of registered nurses that is expected to continue through 2030.

SUMMER DUAL-ENROLLMENT

In summer 2016, Georgia high-school students interested in studying languages can choose from two three-week study abroad programs – in Germany or France. The programs are funded by Move on When Ready, a state program that covers tuition costs for qualifying high school juniors and seniors to earn high school and college credit.

MBA

Did you know that 80 percent of companies planned to hire an MBA graduate last year? UNG has expanded the MBA program to the Gainesville Campus, offering courses two nights a week.

LANGUAGES

UNG offers 10 languages including Arabic, Chinese, French, or Spanish and numerous study abroad opportunities

Lead on a global stage

UNG provides career-building experience.

In 2015, Erika Evans was one of two University of North Georgia students who earned scholarships for the prestigious Fulbright program for international study and research.

Erika was UNG's first intern at U.S. European Command in Germany and earned her bachelor's degree in international affairs. Through the Fulbright program, she is currently an English teaching assistant in Russia. She plans a career as a foreign service officer.

The University of North Georgia is proud of turning personal potential into success and successful people into leaders.

UNG is designated as a State Leadership Institution and as The Military College of Georgia®.

TOP SCHOLARS

UNG's initiative for students to pursue nationally competitive scholarships is paying off with life-changing opportunities.

FULBRIGHT SCHOLARS

Jacob Dietrich and Erika Evans were two of only 1,900 people in the nation selected for the prestigious 10-month Fulbright program for international study and research.

UDALL SCHOLAR

John Dees, an environmental and spatial analysis major, earned one of 50 Udall Scholars for his outstanding work in the field of environmental policy in 2014. He has since earned a full scholarship to graduate school at the University of California – Berkeley.

NIH SCHOLARS

Obadi Obadi became the second UNG student to receive a highly competitive National Institutes of Health Undergraduate Scholarship—a scholarship that funds a summer NIH internship and a year of employment at the NIH following graduation.

NACHSHON FELLOW

Rachel Glazer, a psychology major and Newman Civic Fellow, was one of 21 students around the world to earn a flagship Nachshon Fellowship to spend a semester in Israel.

BOREN SCHOLARS

After studying Arabic at the Center for International Learning in Oman, Noah McDaniel spent a school year in Oman on full scholarship as a prestigious David L. Boren Scholar. He is one of three UNG students to earn the scholarship.

GILMAN SCHOLARS

Jonathan Shepard and Anita Renfroe are studying Arabic in Oman through the Gilman International Scholarship, a congressionally-funded scholarship program for students studying or interning internationally. Eleven UNG students have earned this scholarship since 2013.

JACK KENT COOKE SCHOLARS

Teri Jones became the second UNG student to earn a Jack Kent Cooke Foundation Undergraduate Transfer Scholarship. Only 90 of these scholarships are awarded nationally each year.
