Traditions

A. MEMORIAL HALL
Located in front of Memorial Hall, this is one of the most sacred traditions on campus. The names engraved on the wall are former UNG students who passed while serving our country during times of war, as well as students who passed while enrolled. It is tradition to never cut through the brick area of the Memorial unless you are reading the names on the list to pay your respects.

B. REVEILLE AND RETREAT
UNG practices reveille and retreat every day at 7 a.m. and 5 p.m. Those who are outdoors on campus or driving through campus at either of those times are expected to face the flag at the Memorial Wall and remain still during the ceremony. Once the flag is raised or lowered, the cannon in the traffic triangle is fired.

C. DRILL FIELD
UNG has a long-standing tradition of not crossing the drill field as a sign of respect for our military mission. Students never use the drill field as a shortcut, but instead use the sidewalk around it (even if they are late to class). The campus community is welcome to use it for events, intramural sports, as a study spot, or just to hang out when it is not in use!

D. THE NIGHTHAWK
In the newest tradition on campus, students rub the head of the nighthawk at the base of the drill field for good luck. Whether finals week is coming up or there’s a big project underway, rubbing Nigel’s head is just what you need to get that A!

E. THE ARCHES
One of the best picture spots on campus, the arches were built by the Class of 1951 to commemorate their classmates who paid the ultimate sacrifice in the Korean War. Freshmen are to use the smaller archway on the left to enter campus, and upperclassmen can use the larger arch.

If you need this document in an alternate format for accessibility purposes, please contact Hannah Reed at hannah.reed@ung.edu.
Welcome to the University of North Georgia’s Dahlonega Campus! We are thankful you took time out of your schedule to come see what UNG is all about. Be sure to take a peek into a classroom, walk by our residence halls, learn about our traditions, and talk to current students to get the inside scoop. We hope you enjoy walking around campus and exploring.

We recommend you take the blue line to see most of campus. If you have some extra time, be sure to check out the optional buildings denoted by the gold circles and gold building descriptions. Our traditions are marked with blue stars. Flip to the back to learn more!

1. CHESTATIE BUILDING: The Chestatie Building is where you'll find the Undergraduate Admissions, Career Advisement, and Graduate Admissions offices. Also, you will find the Campus Recreation, Military Clothing Store, Registrar’s Office, Academic Advising, and Student Health Services.

2. STEWART CENTER: Stewart houses Financial Aid & Veterans Benefits, Residence Life, Orientation & Transition Programs, the Dean of Students, Student Counseling, Career Services, the Testing Center, Student Money Management Center, and Student Disability Services.

3. DUNLAP HALL: Dunlap Hall is home to our College of Education, World Languages and Cultures, Psychological Science, and English department.

4. NEWTON OAKS CENTER: The Mike Cottrell College of Business is located in Newton Oaks Center (NOC). NOC is also home to the Math department.

5. MEMORIAL HALL: Memorial Hall is named for the Memorial Wall located in front of it. It serves as a venue for various events including guest speakers. Memorial is named after our founder, William Peace. Memorial Hall holds the Office of President and other administrators, the Office of University Relations, and the Center for Global Engagement, which organizes UNG’s 300 different study abroad opportunities.

6. LIBRARY TECHNOLOGY CENTER: The Library Technology Center (LTC) houses educational resources for students, staff, and faculty and is home to the Writing Center, Distance Education & Technology Integrations. It also serves as a venue for various guest speakers.

7. THE MILITARY VILLAGE: Designated for cadet use in the Corps of Cadets, the Military Village includes 3 suite-style residence halls.

8. OWEN HALL: Owen Hall is the only apartment-style residence hall on campus. These are 4 bedroom, 2 bathroom apartments, with their own living area and kitchen.

9. CONVOCATION CENTER: Opened in the spring of 2018, the Convocation Center hosts some of the larger classrooms on campus. It features one of the best views of the mountains and an outdoor amphitheater.

10. TRADITIONAL STYLE HOUSING: There are traditional-style housing options—Donovan Hall, Lewis Hall, and Lewis Annex, which features community rooms and community-style bathrooms.

11. DINING HALL: Affectionately called “Chow”, the Dining Hall is one of several tasty dining options on campus. On a perfect day, you can see the Dwarf Mountain from the dining room.

12. THE COMMONS: This is the newest residence hall on campus, and one of 2 suite-style residence halls.

13. HEALTH & NATURAL SCIENCES: The Health & Natural Sciences building (HNS) is home to the science programs and popular majors on campus, such as Nursing, Biology, Chemistry, and Physical Therapy program. HNS is equipped with state-of-the-art labs, classrooms, or physical therapy clinic, patient simulation labs, a planetarium, and a cadaver lab.

14. THE NORTH GEORGIA SUITES: The North Georgia Suites are another suite-style residence hall on campus. It features one of the best views of the mountains and an outdoor amphitheater.

15. ACADEMIC ROW: Academic Row includes Regan Hall (featuring chemistry and physics labs), the John L. Nix Center (home to our music majors and music major programs), and Hammond Hall (home to the Honors Program).

16. HANNFORD HALL: This building will find the Department of Visual Arts and Criminal Justice along with many faculty offices.

17. PRICK MEMORIAL HALL: The oldest building on campus, Prick Memorial is named after our founder, William Peace. Prick Memorial Hall holds the Office of Provost and other administrators, the Office of University Relations, and the Center for Global Engagement, which organizes UNG’s 300 different study abroad opportunities.

18. YOUNG HALL: Young Hall is the second-oldest building on campus. This is where you will find history, social science, and political science courses, as well as some of the larger classrooms on campus.

19. JOANNE C. SMITH STUDENT CENTER: Here, you’ll find Student Involvement, Multicultural Student Services, Campus Post Office, and Student Card Services. UNG has more than 250 clubs and organizations to join! There’s also Einstein’s Bros. Bagels for breakfast and coffee, Twisted Taco and MISO Noodle and Sushi for lunch and dinner, or the POD Express if you need to grab something on the go.

20. 206 REC CENTER: The UNG Rec Center houses a 25-foot rock climbing wall, basketball courts, a 1/10 mile track, free weights and cardio equipment. In addition, Outdoor Pursuits, Club Sports and Intramural Sports are located here.